

Good morning,

This morning, CenterPoint Energy (CenterPoint) and Vectren announced that the Boards of Directors of both companies have unanimously approved and the parties have entered into a definitive agreement for Vectren to combine with CenterPoint through an acquisition by CenterPoint.

CenterPoint Energy (NYSE: CNP) is a domestic energy delivery company that includes electric transmission & distribution, natural gas distribution and energy services operations. The company serves more than 5 million metered customers primarily in Arkansas, Louisiana, Minnesota, Mississippi, Oklahoma, and Texas. Headquartered in Houston, Texas, CenterPoint has nearly 8,000 employees.

Today's news marks the next chapter for the Vectren family of companies, as well as our customers, colleagues, communities and shareholders. After much consideration, we believe that we have found the right partner in CenterPoint. They are a company that has demonstrated the values and commitment to customers and communities that Vectren has long taken to heart.

It is important you understand what we are announcing, how this affects our company, and what we expect to accomplish together in the coming weeks and months. I will be holding an all-employee meeting at 8:30 a.m. central time (9:30 eastern) THIS MORNING (Monday) at One Vectren Square to walk through the details of the agreement.

For those that cannot attend in person, you may dial in via the following phone number. Please consider convening in a conference room with small groups of employees to ensure we have enough phone lines available:

- Phone: (800) 260-0718
- Participant Access Code: 448142

The slide deck I will be using will be posted on the Miller Hub at least 15 minutes prior to the meeting, so remote employees can review while listening to the call. The meeting will be recorded and shared with your communications team as soon as possible following my remarks. A list of frequently asked questions (FAQs) related to the sale agreement will be shared with all Miller Pipeline employees, and this document will be updated as we move forward. Questions not addressed in the FAQ can be directed to your regional vice president or submitted to Laura.Morrow@millerpipeline.com. In the meantime, a fact sheet about today's announcement will be posted to the Miller Hub as will a link to today's press release.

Please know this announcement does not change the work we need to do to operate our company and serve our customers. Our customers at Miller Pipeline and Minnesota Limited are counting on you to continue business as usual, including your continued pursuit of every opportunity to grow our customer base. In fact, CenterPoint found our subsidiary companies, Miller Pipeline, Minnesota Limited and Energy Systems Group, to be very attractive businesses and their projected growth was a key contributor leading to the transaction announced today.

Today's announcement is very personal for all of us who have worked hard to build Vectren, Miller Pipeline and Minnesota Limited into such great companies. Announcements like this create anxiety, and we are committed to addressing that head-on with sensitivity and as much clarity of information as possible. You should know that a shared commitment to employees is a cornerstone of our agreement with CenterPoint. What this transaction means to each of us is a conversation that begins today.

CenterPoint Energy President and CEO Scott Prochazka will be at One Vectren Square tomorrow. We expect to conduct another all-employee meeting at 10 a.m. central, so please save time on your calendar accordingly. Another mass email on Scott's meeting will come later today. His remarks will also be recorded and posted on your intranet as quickly as possible.

The transaction must be approved by several federal regulatory agencies and Vectren's shareholders and other customary closing conditions must be satisfied before the parties can close. The parties will also make regulatory filings in Indiana and Ohio. This process will take several months and the parties are targeting closing the transaction by the first quarter of 2019. This is a very big day for Vectren and CenterPoint. Together, we can be a stronger, more competitive company that will be well-positioned to create new opportunities for our employees and provide greater value for our stakeholders in the years to come.

Thank you,
Carl Chapman
Chairman, President & CEO
Vectren Corporation
